The vegevalue avery. INVICORATING CORDIAL

R GENITAL BEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTI-NENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The as-T NENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude, and General Prestration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact, as a renealy for the above complaints, it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRADUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed, by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in tills country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found—the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, less of MEMORY, CONFUSION, thoughts of self-destruction, fear of inasity, &c., it will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, emissions, &c., were incurable. This, however, is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has cured,

some that these disorders, uniform the fact.

This, however, is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has cured, and is constantly curing, these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclu-ments am locally inceptally of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. Woodward, of —, Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this Cordial thus: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, procured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me," says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the mean time he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question. The proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimeny to show that the great reputation it enjays was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its pestitive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not, in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their asanction to any other preparation for the above have not, in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION

of those who have used this Extract in the local years.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION
of those who have used this Extract is: "I had heard your Cordial highly spoken vi, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas,) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel atronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am estisfied that the half a dozen bottles I took will cure ms."

Another says: "I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured; others prescribed this thing and that; but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely cured me."

saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."
CAUTION—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial, and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame, and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordinis, &c., and try only this. It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle; two bottles, $5; six bottles, $12; and $24 per dozen.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing curse that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. siddresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that seeret and solidary habit, which rules both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Bluness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepals, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c.

Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERYOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arise from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice se fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardinas are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they aseribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsis, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption: also those serious Mental effects, such as less of Memory, Depression of Spirits, or peculiar fits of Molancholy, when the truth is, they have been caused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices, destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

Society.
DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most deblitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculties become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallen fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have bundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion! Such persons, before contemplating MARHAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and bedy are the most necessary requisites to promote communical happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pligrimage; the prospect hourly darkons to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston may religiously confide in his hours as a Gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

TO STRANGERS.

The ways thousands cared at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations perfermed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guara; ty that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable physician.

TAKE NOTICE.

TAKE NOTICE.

It is with the greatest reluctance that Dr. Johnston permits his card to appear before the public, deeming it unprofessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fail into the hands of these imprudent, boasting impostors—individuals destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pediars, shoemakers, mechanics, &a., advertising themselves as physicians; improved queeks, who keep you triffing month after sicians; ignorant quacks, who keep you triffing month after month, as long as possible, and in despair leave you with ruined health to sigh over your galling disappointment. It is this motive alone that induces Dr. J. to advertise, for he alone can care you. To those unsequainted with his reputation he deems it necessary to say, that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his Office.

WESLEY AND HIS COADJUTORS. SELDOM have I taken up a book of biography which I have been so well pleased and really pras with Wesley and his Coadjutors, by Prof. Lar as with Wesley and his Coadjutors, or the coadjutors with strange of the pure pages aparkle like diamonds, with strange well as beautiful incidents, touching in turn every chord well as beautiful incidents, touching in turn every to deep well as conducted including the human heart, and arousing its latent energies to deed of noble daring. Wesley is exhibited as he really was, most wonderful man; wonderful principally as an agent of Providence in revising pure religion in the world.

The second volume opens with Charles Wesley, that prince of lyric poets, who is made to pass before the reader so well defined that he seems to see his form and hear his voice, and be thrilled with his sublime hymns, a rich legacy voice, and be thrilled with his sublime hymns, a rich legacy left to the Church in all after time.

Whitefield, the peerless orator and devoted Christian, next appears, with his matchless powers, arousing Great Britain and America with an eloquence and anction that literally bore down all before it, turning the people to God by thousands, till from the most degraded—degraded because forsaken of their religious teachers—plants of right-cousness were seen springing up and adorning the garden of the Lord. John Fletcher closes the list of notable worthies in the two volumes before us, and every way worthy is he to do it. He is made to pass along in his own incomparable, beautiful simplicity, with a holiness all but superhuman, possessing talents that an angel might have envised; the acutest and ablest controversalist writer of his own or any subsequent age.—Zuon's Herald.

A flag is floating free and clear
A star is rising high;
And shouts of heart-feit joy we hear,
Re echoed to the sky.
Columbia's bird up soars afar,
And finds a lofter spot—
For on that flag and in that star
Is hailed the usme of $0077!

A name that far and near is known,

From hall to humble cot;
No name has evernore brightly shone
Than that of Whyrrin Scorr.
To vict'ry he has led his hosts—
Britain to him has bowed;
Of him his country proudly boasts,
Full well might she be proud.

And who can breathe a taunting word?—
We love the man who sheds his blood,
His country's rights to save.
And such is he, our gallent Scorr,
Victor in every fight!
A patriot true, he's bravely fought
'Gainst wrong—protecting right!

Tho' fully laurel'd is his brow,
And tow'ring now his fame,
Our "highest gift" we offer now,
In th' glorious old Whis name!
Like him, we'll never be defiled
By low, base party plot;
For he shall be our country's guide,
Our own loved Winfield Scott!

The Vankee at a Modern Hotel.

Some time ago, a very long, brown Down Easter, attired in one of those costumes which where to be met with except on the stage, a tall bell-crowned white hat, short-waisted blue coat, with enormous pewter buttons, a vest as "yaller" as a barberry blossom, and a pair of corduroys, whose highest ambition seemed to be to maintain their ascendancy over a pair of enor-mous cowhides that had trodden many hundred miles of logging paths, "might have been seen," jack-knife and shingle in hand, winding his way up Long Wharf, in the realization of his life-long anticipations of "seein" Boston." At the corner of Merchants' Row his progress was arrested by the lumbering transit of a two-story house on wheels, drawn by half a dozen yoke of oxen, with the people inside pursuing their usual avoca-

"What on airth is that 'ere?" he asked of a bystander.

"Oh, nothing," replied the "towney," "the folks are only moving, that's all. When we move down here, we do it, house and all." "Je-rusalem! Wall, that beats all natur. Well, cap'n, what's that 'ere big stun house over the

"Oh, they use elephants for moving such large buildings. "And how many elephants will it take?" "Upward of a hundred."

The Yankee cut a deep gash in his shingle, nd walked on. He next inquired for the Adams' House, for he had "heard tell" of that, and was determined to progress during juvenility, aware of the impossibility of doing so at a more advanced age.

He soon found the "tavern," and the "dea con," and ordered accommodations, literally "darning the expenses." Having "slicked up" a little, he witnessed, with some amazement, the operations of a servant upon the gong, simply remarking that "he know'd what sheet-lightning was, but this was the first time he'd ever beard of sheet thunder." He followed the crowd into the dining hall and was ushered to a seat, where he ensconsed himself, tucking his towel under his chin with a sort of desperation, as if he was going to be shaved or scalped.

The sight of the covered dishes added to his mazement. "Dod darn it!" he exclaimed "ef ever heard of cookin' on the table! but here they've gone and sot tin kitchens all over the lot

Whar's the fire to come from, that's what I'd like to know! He got along with his soup very well, and was into Paris on the 18th of October. He had been waiter snatched his plate away, and was running off with it. "Hello, you sir!" vociferated the Yankee, "I see you. Fetch that 'ere back quicker'n lightnin', or you'll hev your heard punched." His plate was returned, and he finished his soup with dignity. After waiting a moment he raised his voice again, and summoned the offending waiter sternly. Kalkelate to starve me?"

"No, sir." "Wall, why don't ye fetch on some fresh fodder, darn it "There's the carte, sir." " Where's the cart? And what in thunder am to do with the cart when I have got it? Look out, you pisky sarpent, or you'll catch it."

"The bill of fare." "I don't pay my bill till I have had my fod-

The waiter humbly explained his meaning "What's all these crack-jaw names mean? Give me something plain and hearty—biled corn beef—and fetch it about the quickest, while I ook over the paper and see what else I'll have.

The meat was brought him. "Hold on!" was the next order. "What's this here? M-a-o-o-a-read it, won't you sir?'

"Maccaroni, sir." "All right, cap'n. Hurry it up." The dish was brought.

"You eternal cuss!" roared the down-easter, "ef I han't as great a mind as I ever had to kerwhollop yer, and make an example of ye on the spot. What do you mean by running yer rigs on spot. me, just because I'm a stranger in these parts? Take away yer biled pipe stems and fetch us some cabbage. That's right. And now some vinegar."

"Vinegar's in the castor, sir," replied the waiter, and made good his retreat. "In the castor is it-hey?" soliloquized the Yankee; "and where in thunder is the castor?" The gentleman opposite, pushed it toward him. He looked at it, and took the stopper out of the vinegar, and taking up the castor by the bottom, turned it up. But all the cruets manifested a desire to illustrate the law of gravity, and leaped from their locations, and the Yankee was compelled to set it down again.

"Jerusalem!" he exclaimed. curious contrivance, and no mistake. How on earth am I to get at the tarnal vinegar? I'll try it once more." Again he canted the castor, but this time all the stopples tumbled out. he ronred, "here's a pretty "Thunderation!" Darn it all, here I've got the darned cas should take the vinegar cruet out of the stand, and by that means should avoid all trouble.' nd by that means should avoid all trouble."

"This here is a

Here the whole company, waiters and all, burst property of the company of the com into a convulsive fit of laughter. The Yankee rose in a rage, upsetting his chair, and glaring your bill on—I'll get out of this. I hain't eat ten cents worth, but I'll pay up like a book, and cuss and quit. And if ever I set out to eat a meal of vittles in Boston town agin, you may take my hide and tan it. Darn your castors, and your castor ile, and you too, one and all!"

And, flinging down a dollar on the table, he seized his white bell-top from the hands of a trembling waiter, and vamosed. Down Washing-ton and State streets he streaked it like a comet, and never slacked his pace till be pulled up on board the Kennebeck. "Cap'n," said he to the commander, "cast off your line just as quick as you're a mind to; and ef you ever catch me wanting to see Boston agin, jest take me by the slack and throw me right into that 'ere biler, boots and all—by gravy."

A Fat Woman in trouble at Sea. A corpulent lady on her way to California writes back to one of her acquaintances her experience in travelling. Here is an extract:

"Our cabin has two boxes in it called berths, though coffins would be nearer the thing, for you think more of your latter end at sea a great deat. One of these is situated over the other like two shelves, and these together make what they call a state-room. My berth was the uppermost one, and I have to climb up to it, putting one foot on the lower one, and the other away on the wash-stand, which is a great stretch, and makes it very straining: then I lift one knee on the berth and roll into it sideways. This is very inconvenient for a woman of my size, and very danerous. Last night I put my foot on Mrs. gerous. Last night I put my foot on Mrs. Brown's face as she lay asleep close to the edge of the lawer one, and nearly put out her eye; and I have torn all the skin off my knees, and then I have a large black spot where I have been hurt, and my head is swelled. To dismount is another feat of horsemanship only fit for a sailor. You can't sit up for the floor overhead; so you have to turn round and roll your legs first, and then hold on till you touch bottom semewhere, and then let yourself down upright.

and then let yourself down upright. "It is a dreadful work, and not very decent for a delicate female, if the steward happens to come in when you are in the act this way. I don't know which is the hardest, to get in or get out of a berth—both are the most difficult things in the world, and I shall be glad when I am done with it. I am obliged to dress in bed before I leave it, and nobody who hasn't tried to put on their clothes lying down can tell you what a task it is. Lacing stays behind your back, and you on your face, nearly smothered with the bed clothes, and feeling for the eyelet hole with one hand, and trying to put the tag in with the other, while you are rolling about from side to side, is no laughing matter. Yesterday, I fastened on the pillows to my bustle by mistake, in the hurry, and never knew it till the people laughed, and said the sea agreed with me, I had grown so fat; but putting on stockings is the worst, for there ain't room to stockings is the worst, for there ain't room to stoop forward, so you have to bring your foot to you, and stretching out on your back, lift up your leg till you can reach it and then drag it on. Corpulent people can't do this so easy, I can tell you. It always gives me the cramp, and takes away my breath. You will pity me if you could conceive, but you can't—nobody but a woman can tell what a woman suffers being confined in can tell what a woman suffers being confined in a berth at sea.'
